

In the story, Puddle matches ladybirds and counts caterpillars while he is at school. Do you think you could find some bugs and insects in your garden?

Firstly, you need some bug hunting binoculars. Stick two toilet roll holders together and attach some string. Decorate your binoculars carefully using pens, paint or anything else you fancy. Once you've finished, you're ready to get bug hunting!

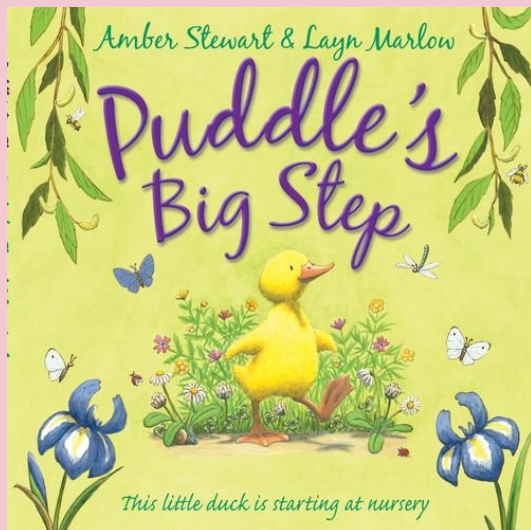

I wonder what you will find!

Puddle steps over stepping stones, and whilst you might not have any stepping stones, you could make some!

Stepping stone ideas:

Cut out pieces of paper and write the numbers 1-20 on each piece. Place them in order and get your child to say each number as they step on each stone. Mix them up and get your child to hop onto each stone in the correct order counting to 20 as they go! You could turn this into a game of musical numbers, when the music stops, shout a number and your child has to step on the correct number stone.

If you missed today's story, don't worry- you can watch it on YouTube here:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=XO4i1acimFs>

Puddle enjoys his favourite biscuits for lunch when he is at school. What is your favourite thing to have for lunch? Mine is a ham and cheese sandwich! Help your grown up to prepare your favourite lunch. If you have brothers and sisters, you could make theirs too! You could have a picnic in your garden, just like Puddle did in the story!

When he's at school, Puddle loves to make things for his Mummy and Daddy! Why not make something for someone you love?

Puddle uses his feet to make some paintings, what a clever idea! You could use your hands and feet to make an Easter picture to give to someone you love. All you need is some paints, pens, paper and some wipes for your hands and feet!

If you enjoyed this story, you could read Little by Little, also written by Amber Stewart & Layn Marlow
<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=QVPnVf3jpxs>